

Moving on to pastures new? Don't forget your health insurance.

Leaving your employer?

You're moving on. Whatever the reason you're leaving, it's important to think about the healthcare benefits you and any family members named on your company scheme have benefitted from.

It's a key benefit you get from your current employer, and whether or not you've claimed, you can take out personal health insurance cover with AXA Health. If you get in touch now, they could cover any ongoing conditions on a new personal policy. This is subject to the terms and conditions of the healthcare cover you take out with them.

Have healthcare cover for previous and existing medical conditions

Whether you're moving on to a new employer, retiring, taking redundancy or just having a break, you could have cover for previous and existing medical conditions.

So if you've claimed for treatment of a medical condition on your company scheme, you may be able to claim for it after you leave. This is subject to the benefits, limitations and exclusions of the personal plan you take out with AXA Health, and this offer is only available for a limited period.

What to do when you know you're leaving

The membership of your company healthcare scheme ends on the day you leave your employer. As soon as you know that you are leaving, you can call AXA Health on 0800 533 5962. Their highly trained agents can run through your options and make sure your new plan starts from the day you leave. That way, there will be no break in cover. This is especially important if you or any of your loved ones are currently using your company health benefits to pay for any ongoing diagnosis or treatment. AXA Health's dedicated agents will give you a quotation for setting up your new plan. They can help you find the best option for both your health needs and your budget.

What to do if you've already left

This special underwriting offer is only available for 120 days after you leave. You could still call AXA Health on 0800 533 5962 before that date. We'll help you create a plan to meet your individual requirements, with the option to have cover for any previous or existing conditions, depending on the terms and condition of the new plan you choose.

Please note: As personal cover can only start when your new plan is set up, please don't delay contacting AXA Health - so you can have the reassurance that you're covered as soon as your membership of your company scheme ends.
