Employee Assistance Programme

We're here for all life's challenges

No two people are the same, and neither are the challenges they face. From the day-to-day struggles of the modern world to significant life events that affect us all, everyone needs somewhere to turn for reassurance when things get too much.

Meeting the complex needs of a diverse workforce needs a fresh, personal approach - an Employee Assistance Programme (EAP) that supports whole health, empowers people to make positive changes and complements their lives today.

The right support, now and in the future

Combining a digital-first approach with access to qualified clinical experts, PHC's EAP supports your people wherever they are and whenever they need it. Accessible online, you can be there for your employees in each of the three wellbeing pillars – Mind, Body and Life.

Providing employees with the right support, both in and out of work, can make a world of difference. It can help you tackle inequalities and build a healthier, more inclusive workforce where every employee feels seen, valued and able to flourish.

Mind

From cutting-edge online guidance to quality one-to-one clinical care, our EAP makes your people's mental wellbeing a priority.

Body

From nutrition and fitness to rehabilitation and recovery, we understand the relationship between mind and body, and how important it is when it comes to supporting positive change and healthy habits.

Life

Our EAP also focuses on prevention and self-care. From helping people form healthy habits to offering them guidance with their finances or legal issues, we're here with support for all life's stresses.

The right support, now and in the future

48%

Less than half of those living with a mental health condition are being looked after by a healthcare professional.¹

37%

of employees surveyed were living with a mental health condition, such as anxiety or depression.¹

x3

Employees are three times more likely to have flourishing mind health when they feel supported by their employer during difficult situations, compared to those who aren't satisfied with their company's support.¹

72%

of UK workers, between the ages of 18 and 24, say mental health benefits are an important factor in deciding whether to stay with an employer. This age group also has the highest prevalence of current mental health conditions (41%).¹

¹ AXA Health 2024 UK mind health workplace report - AXA Mind Health Study was conducted between 15 October and 15 November 2023 in 16 countries among representative samples of the population aged 18–75 in each country (1,000 in each)

Help to navigate all life's twists and turns

Through their EAP, your people can get confidential, impartial support supplied by experts. From mental health struggles to life management and consumer rights, they'll gain the right guidance and support, whenever it's needed.

Support without limits

We're here to help your people find a listening ear and a helping hand on their own terms. We don't have time-based targets or limits for the number of different challenges your people can contact our service about.

Life Management

Personal, accessible round-the-clock support

Online, your people have fast access to the right expert-led help, alongside a wealth of other wellbeing support available to encourage and enable year-round engagement.

- An extensive library of expert curated content, including bitesize videos, articles and learning modules.
- Workouts for mind and body.
- Digital Health Score assessment, helping build health understanding.
- Dedicated manager-focused resources.
- Personalised recommendations and dashboards.
- Online access to expert support via WhatsApp, call back, live chat and SMS.
- Online booking and best-fit clinician matching, based on member preferencing and clinical need.

The online wellbeing support is available to all employees of PHC clients with a private medical plan.

Trusted content

From nutrition and exercise to mental health and better sleep, we've checked and approved every piece of expert-curated content to ensure it offers guidance that your people can trust.

Health Score assessments

Offering employees a fast way to get the answers they need, our Health Score assessment evaluates their levels of physical and mental health, and combines with personalised recommendations and next-step guidance. This could include a relevant e-learning course, suggestions for simple lifestyle changes, or signposting to more dedicated support.

Accessible, digital mental health support

When booking online, your employees will have the option to outline their preferences and needs, so they can be offered a more personal experience with best-match guided support.

Members loved the experience from booking through to receiving support (NPS +88). 93% would recommend the service.²

Here to listen

Some problems are easier to work through than others. And when it comes to mental health concerns like low mood, anxiety, stress or burnout, it can make all the difference to have someone to talk to.

Your people can speak to a fully qualified counsellor or mental health practitioner by phone, live chat, SMS or WhatsApp - 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. They'll identify challenges and get employees to the right onward support as soon as possible.

- Direct, confidential and unlimited access online or via a freephone telephone number.
- Access to onward support when it's needed. This includes one-off support calls, a mental health assessment and if appropriate, short-term counselling led by a mental health practitioner.

Typical problems that we help with include:

- Bereavement
- Debt
- Alcohol and drug abuse
- Violence
- Stress
- Illness
- Relationships
- Work-related issues.

98%

of those engaging with the EAP service would rate their experience as 'good' or 'very good'.³

Mental health assessment

The right support, at the right time

Our EAP makes mental health support more accessible for your employees, 16 and over. No matter their entry-point, every employee's care is informed by a number of measures, including the CORE-10 system, where appropriate.

Your employees will be directed to the right expert support according to their needs.

Qualified, experienced mental health practitioners and counsellors are available online and over the phone. They'll work with employees to:

- gain an understanding of their mental health challenges or difficulties
- conduct a mental health state and risk assessment
- outline any available treatments, where applicable and clinically appropriate
- help them make an informed choice regarding their treatment.

Case consultant review

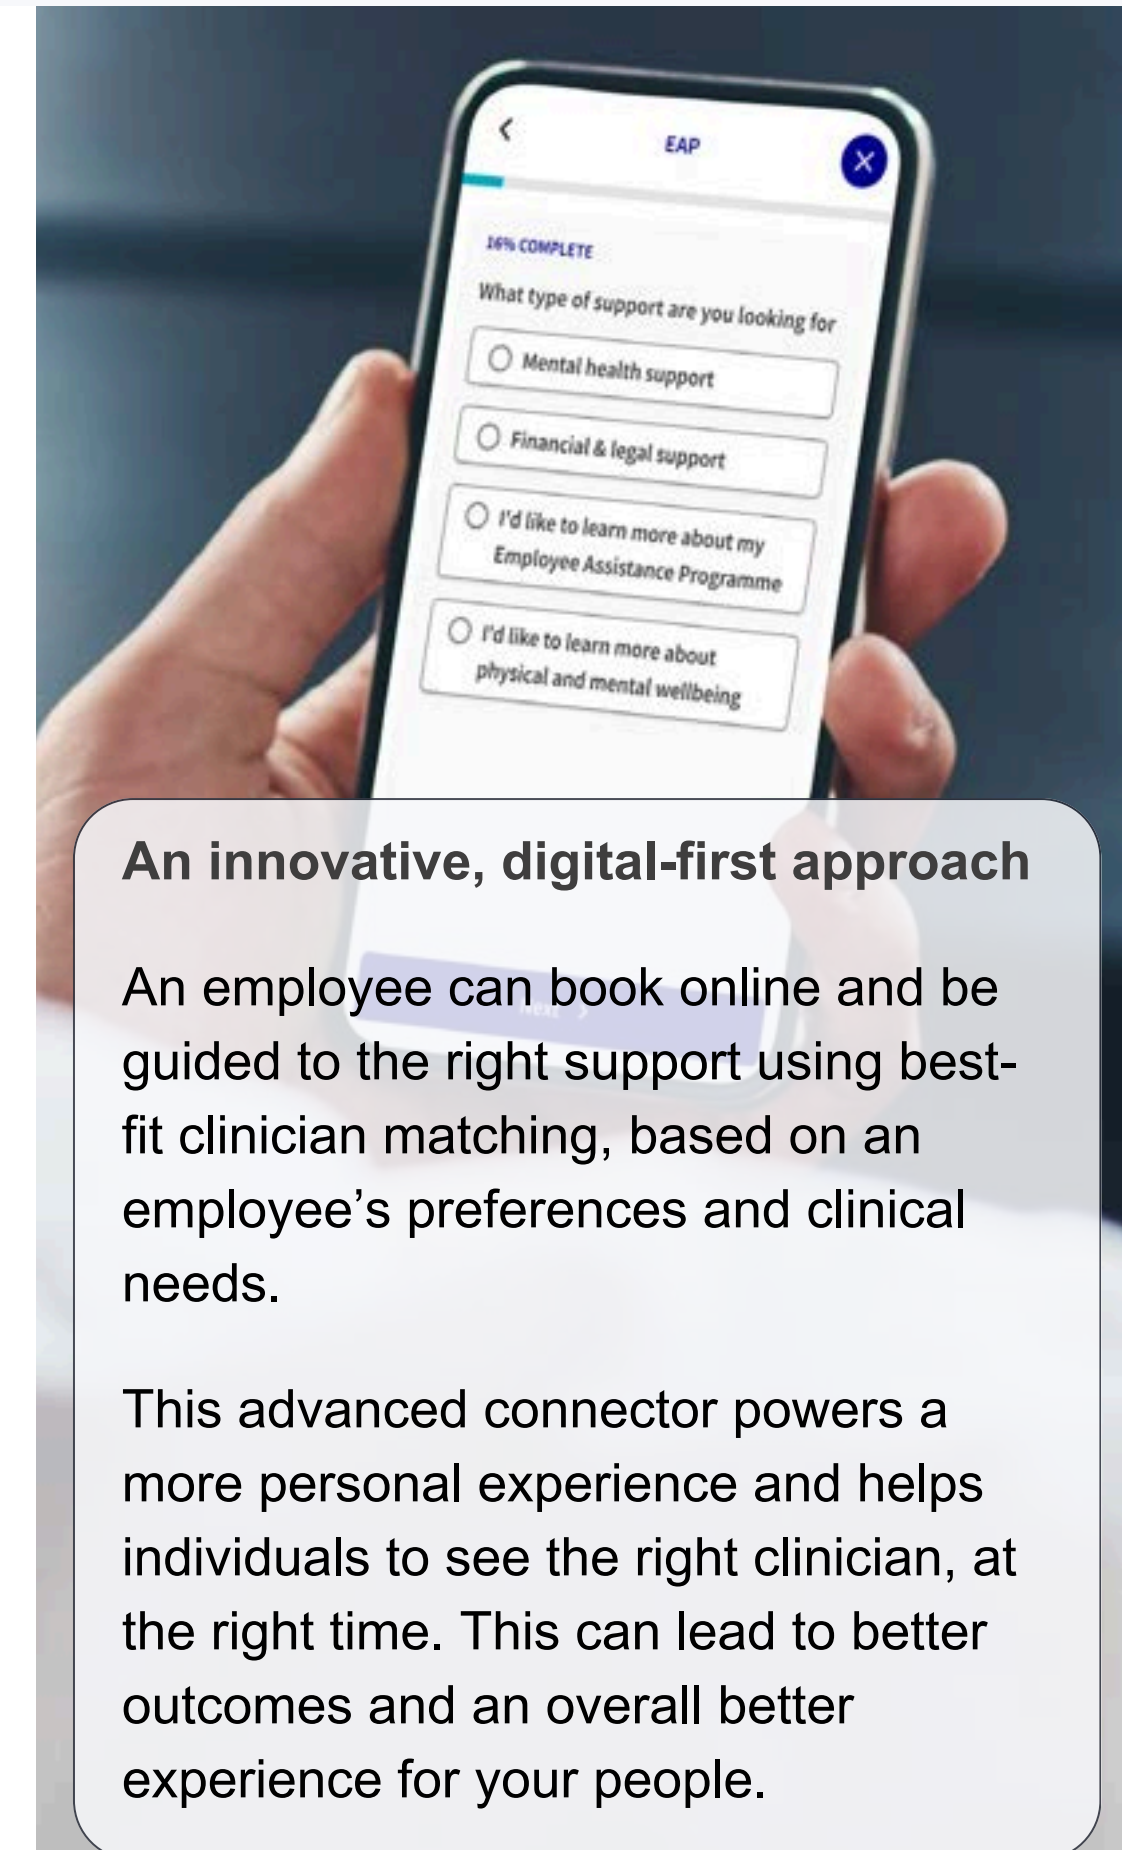

A team of clinical consultants closely manages cases all the way through to discharge, ensuring employees with high risks are cared for and that they receive clinically appropriate treatment.

Difficult cases can be escalated to senior clinicians and psychologists, who will support those who need extra support. The treating mental health practitioner or counsellor can consult at any time to discuss any aspect of the case, such as a change in clinical status.

reduction in the number of those in the severe and moderately severe distress categories after support informed by CORE-101.⁴

An innovative, digital-first approach

An employee can book online and be guided to the right support using best-fit clinician matching, based on an employee's preferences and clinical needs.

This advanced connector powers a more personal experience and helps individuals to see the right clinician, at the right time. This can lead to better outcomes and an overall better experience for your people.

In-the-moment support

Unlimited support, there and then

Some common mental health challenges are better dealt with there and then. Our service offers 24/7 in-the-moment clinical support, where appropriate, for those who need to discuss a concern or an issue right away.

Delivered by fully accredited, registered and qualified mental health practitioners or counsellors, this service offers employees immediate, thorough support.

It's available 24/7 – both directly and by arranging a call back - and can include follow-up sessions and onward referrals where necessary.

would recommend the EAP service to family and friends.⁴

Short-term counselling

The guidance they need, when they need it

When scheduled counselling is what's needed, our short-term counselling service makes it easy for people to access the right support. Based on an assessment of their requirements, your employee will be steered towards the right level of help at the right time.

Employees can speak in confidence to experienced counsellors and mental health practitioners for friendly, non-judgemental support and information. Short-term counselling can be delivered in-person, by video or over the phone.

And because, from time to time, employees may experience more than one challenge, we never limit the support they receive to one individual concern.

Qualified mental health practitioners and counsellors

Your people will have access to a team of more than 100 clinicians, counsellors, mental health practitioners, therapists, psychotherapists, psychologists and neurodiversity specialists.

- An extended affiliate network of more than 2,500, with face-to-face treatment available within 30 miles.⁵
- All are fully accredited, registered and qualified.
- Each has been qualified for a minimum of three years.
- Each has 400+ hours of clinical experience.⁵

⁵ Accurate as of April 2025.

24/7 health support line

Help when it comes to their health

Wider health concerns can arise at any time – day or night. Whether an employee wants to discuss the side-effects of their medication or they can't sleep because of a worry, support is available 24/7.⁶

Whatever the concern, pharmacists, midwives and nurses are ready to answer their questions and provide clarity and support. Available all year-round, there's no limit to the number of times someone can call.

⁶ Our 24/7 health support line includes nurses available 24/7, 365 days a year. Pharmacists and midwives are available Monday to Friday, 8am to 8pm, Saturday 8am to 4pm, and Sunday 8am to 12pm.

Manager support

Extra support for your managers

An AXA Health 2024 Mind Health Report found that nearly a third of managers (29%) have moderate to extremely severe symptoms of depression,⁷ so it's more important than ever to ensure managers are well-equipped and feel supported. Doing so can create a ripple effect of positive outcomes and help your leaders to be confident during challenging times too.

Managers will be supported with their own challenges. They'll be provided with guidance to ensure they're comfortable and assured when dealing with challenging, unfamiliar or complex situations. They can access support via the 24/7 helpline, online.

The AXA Health mind health study found that managers are twice as likely to have taken sick leave due to their mental health in the last twelve months.⁷

⁷ AXA Health 2024 UK mind health workplace report - AXA Mind Health Study was conducted between 15 October – 15 November 2023 in 16 countries among representative samples of the population aged 18–75 in each country (1,000 in each).

Life Management

Guidance for everyday life

Mental health challenges, such as low mood, stress and anxiety, can be impacted by other aspects of our lives. Knowing where to turn isn't always easy. From financial worries or legal issues to housing concerns and eldercare, Life Management gives your people somewhere to turn to for guidance and practical support.⁸

2 business days

A dedicated team is on hand to offer support and answer questions. Consultations can be arranged within two business days, unless the employee schedules or prefers another time.

Financial information

Qualified, independent financial experts for guidance and information on topics such as budgeting, debt management, court claims, tax queries, fraud and other everyday money issues.

Legal information

While we don't offer legal advice, employees can gain confidential and unlimited guidance and signposting for many challenges they may face, including housing concerns, consumer matters, inheritance, marriage, separation and divorce.

⁸ Financial consultations are available Monday to Friday between 9am and 5pm. Legal consultations are available Monday to Thursday between 8:30am and 11pm, Fridays between 8:30am and 8pm, and Saturdays between 8:30am and 4pm (BST/GMT).
